

Recent Operations

By Paul Hardin

This week I'm going to talk about elections. But not the polling kind. This week's election is to do with elections within civic circles.

First I'd like to extend congratulations to members of the Pahokee Lions club for picking a splendid chap as president for the next year. At the recent election Roy Segree was chosen unanimously to fill that job. Roy will make a good president because he is civic-minded and actually works when he is head of any organization. Recent organization of the Everglades Branch of the National League club about as a result of the ardent work being by the newly elected Lions president.

In the Rotary club John Duffity will be succeeded by Dennis Caudill as president. Dennis is principal of the Pahokee high school. He is an excellent organizer as has been proven during the year he has headed the Pahokee school. Being a busy man with hundreds of commitments under his belt, the high school principal was a bit reluctant to accept the presidency of the club. However, the nominating committee insisted that his name be offered and members of the club were unanimous in their election.

George Belk, who has done an outstanding job as president of the Lions club for the past year, will have thought he could rest a little after the first of July when his term expires. But not so. At Monday night's meeting of the Pahokee Parent-Teacher association he was chosen as president of that body for the ensuing year. He will continue to lead and leaves a splendid record as head of the group.

In Belle Glade Lou Betzner, president of Rotary for a year, received the regular office of Dick Townsend on July 1. The club has had a good year under Lou's leadership and the good work will continue under the presidency of Mr. Townsend. The incoming president has been an active member of the club for many years and always has been outstanding in club affairs.

Frank Dooley, president of the Belle Glade Lions club for the past year, stated this week that the annual election of that organization will be held within the next week or so. Under Frank's guidance the Belle Glade club has increased its membership and during the year and his successor will have to step to replace the record hung up during the past 12 months.

Mrs. Bleech Named WAVE Recruiter

Mrs. Marion Bleech of Pahokee prominent in local civic and club affairs, has been appointed a volunteer WAVES recruiter for this city.

The appointment was announced today by Specialist R. L. Smith of the Navy Recruiting Service of Jacksonville to launch the Volunteer WAVES recruiter program for this city.

In accepting the appointment, Mrs. Bleech said she was one of the other prominent women in this state who have pledged their assistance to the Navy in the enlistment of young women in the women's reserve. Mrs. Bleech has been given complete information on the WAVES program, and all necessary forms for completing applications for enlistment. Interested persons are invited to contact her for additional training by telephoning 5691 or 4481.

Basic requirements for enlistment in the WAVES, Smith explained, include two years of high school or business college, ages 20-38, and if married, no minor children.

George Belk Named President of PTA Group in Pahokee

George M. Belk, A.P. store manager and for the past year president of the Lions Club, was elected president of the Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association at the annual election of officers held Monday night in the high school auditorium. Other officers chosen for the coming year were Mrs. D. D. Caudill, first vice president; D. D. Caudill, second vice president; Mrs. Phara Mock, secretary; Mrs. L. J. Fraser, treasurer; and Carl A. Moberg, program chairman.

Mrs. Jean M. Elliott, retiring president who presided at the business, announced that Mrs. Laura Chastain had been named PTA representative to the Everglades recreational park project.

A report was made on the party given to the children of Mrs. Sue Smith's first grade room for winning the attendance count at the March meeting. Hostesses at the party were Mrs. C. D. Duffity and Mrs. W. H. May, room mothers and Mrs. Elliott.

The attendance awards for April were given to Mrs. C. D. Duffity at the elementary school and to the eleventh grade at the high school.

A program on "Music in Our Town" was presented by Rev. C. A. Moberg. An interesting talk on "The Future of the PTA" was given by Rev. Moberg who illustrated his words with the playing of folk tunes on the piano.

It was announced that the installation of the new officers would be held at the final meeting of the school year on May 1. Mrs. Caudill will be in charge of the program on "Cultural Influence in Our Town."

LIONS LETTER

Dear Fellow Lions: As the old saying is, "take credit when credit is due, also take the blame when it is your fault." I must admit it was my fault that your letter to this newspaper was not printed for two weeks. Please write me this time.

I am not personally acquainted with most of you Lions in the Service as I have only been a member of your club since last August, but I hear your names called at each meeting, therefore I am sure you are all doing well. I hope the fellowship of the club will bring some good meetings, and I enjoy the fellowship of the club very much.

At the past week we have been receiving some of the badly needed rain, in this section; the spring rains are looking much greener. I hope for the last evening of the year to be held in Winger Haven, April 23rd, 24th, and 25th, with a dance and a party. I hope it will be possible for some of the members to be present for the three days.

Well, politics are going pretty strong here at present; the Lions are even holding their annual election this week with the next two weeks. (None of the members have made a "soap box" speech, yet).

At our meeting this week we were honored to have as our guest speaker, John Hollinger, a State Representative. His subject was "Post War Planning," and what we as Lions could do about it. He talked about Food Production and the vast possibilities of Palm Beach County as a food production center.

Two Rallies To Be Held In Glades Before Election

Everglades voters will get a look at all county candidates, according to a ruling of the County Democratic committee. That the first rally will be held in Belle Glade on Thursday night, April 27 in the Belle Glade city hall.

The second rally will be held in Pahokee at the high school auditorium on Friday night, April 28. Local committees in charge of the rally will be invited to present their candidacies to the voters of the county.

Plans call for a short concert by the Pahokee high school band on Nola's corner immediately before the meeting. The band will play several numbers in the auditorium before the program gets under way.

It is hoped by the committee that a large crowd will turn out for the rally which should prove interesting when the various candidates present their claims for election.

Howard Jones Gets County-Wide Support

Howard Jones, Lake Worth candidate for supervisor of registration, said this week that he had visited all parts of Palm Beach county and had received assurances of support for his candidacy.

It is not only a native Floridian but he is a native of Palm Beach county having been born in West Palm Beach where he attended the schools, started his career identified with the plumbing business.

Now is a resident of Lake Worth where he works for the plumbing business. He was in the service of the city of Lake Worth from 1935. By courtesy of the city he was able to spend some of his time off to conduct his candidacy.

The Lake Worth candidate said he did not intend to rest on the wonderful endorsement he received on his first trip throughout the county. He intends to conduct a vigorous campaign down to the close.

Chicken Supper Night of April 19

On Wednesday, April 19, at the Pahokee Woman's club in Pahokee, there will be a delicious chicken supper served and every time over expenses will go to new music needed for the Everglades Memorial Hospital. The supper is the idea of three Canal Point women—Mrs. Francis Cross, Mrs. A. R. Chastain and Mrs. W. H. Kepp. Last week this newspaper got airtight in the details of the affair and said the supper was being sponsored by the Pahokee Woman's club. Here are the true facts.

Ladies have set a price of $3.00 per person for the supper which won't sound a bit high when you consider that ALL profits go to the hospital. It's an easy way of enjoying a splendid dinner and making a donation to a worthwhile cause all at the same time. The ladies plan to entertain during the serving hours which have been set for 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.

At the preaching hour of eleven, the pastor, C. A. Moberg, will speak on "The Resurrection of Christ, Negative and Positive." Mr. Moberg, accompanied at the piano by her husband, will sing "He Lives." The choir will sing "He Arose."

Letters From The Boys In Service

Somewhere in Italy
February 19, 1944

Dear Paul:
I should have written you before but never seem to find time and write together at the same time.

I can't find the correct words to properly express my gratitude for the arrival here of The Everglades News. "Thank you" is hardly adequate but is the best I can do to express my appreciation. I have received three copies and have read every word in each one and enjoyed them very much. I particularly enjoyed the letters from the boys in the armed service.

Keep the good work going and we will keep the agency on the run. Thanks again.

Gratefully yours,
Cpl. Julian K. Hodges.

Hi Paul:
Just a few lines to let you know that I'm receiving the paper OK. The last one was dated Feb. 28, 1944.

I had a very distinguished visitor recently in the person of Mrs. F. D. R. She gave a very interesting talk to the officers and crew of the Omaha.

Resources Board Pushes Plan For Recreational Park

At a meeting of the Pahokee County Resources Development Board in the Lions Club building last Friday night, Chairman John A. Duffany named temporary officers on a park commission for the purpose of organizing a permanent non-profit organization with the authority and executive powers to complete plans, finance and build a memorial recreational park and youth center for this area.

W. A. Keen announced that the city of Pahokee was planning to build a small park in front of and running 660 feet south of the Everglades Memorial Hospital and the Board agreed to cooperate with the city in getting this done.

"B. Elliott told of plans of deepening the West Palm Beach canal, the cost of clearing water hyacinths from the canal cost approximately $100,000 while the faster current created by the deepening of the canal would automatically free the water of hyacinths and at the same time a channel would be provided for small boats, he explained.

Mr. Elliott said that Everglades Drainage District officers were favorably impressed by this idea and were inclined to believe that they would be able to get their attention. He also reported that equipment for a tree reaping machine was being sent to the area arrived in Pahokee. The plan is in operation this week.

J. W. Pelet, field director of Civilian Conservation Corps, who was a visitor, reported that provisions for the deepening of the canal and the Myers-Lake Okechobee State Waterway was included in a bill now before Congress and that this work would be completed by the House. R. E. Keeler, Washington representative of the same organization, was also present at the meeting and introduced by Mr. Pelet.

R. J. Schroder was named public chairman for the Board.

Stuckey Plans Radio Talks

L. L. Stuckey, farmer-businessman candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, is planning a series of radio talks for the first two weeks in April that he believes will place his candidacy more favorably than ever before all the voters of the district.

Mr. Stuckey, who was one of the first to announce his candidacy when the new Sixth District was formed stands for "winning the election and then governing with justice." He has stated that he will support any economically sound National Program to improve the lives of the people and will wage an aggressive fight in Congress to remove prices from perishable vegetables.

For many years active as a farmer and business executive in Palm Beach County, Stuckey now a tremendous growth and development in store for South Florida in the Post-war era. "Although we are now geared to winning the war," said Stuckey here this week, "we must not neglect plans to take the job that is likely to come with peace."

RECOGNIZE HIM?

Nearly everybody in the Lake Region at one time or another has transacted business with him at the Bank of Pahokee. It is none other than Colquhoun Davis, a former employee of the Pahokee bank, who is a member of Uncle Sam's fighting forces. Colquhoun Davis, president of the O. O. Gilbert, secretary and treasurer and Joseph Hutton, tell us that Davis is a former member of the bank and was elected at the meeting of April 18. Recommendations for the new officers were made by Rupert Mock, L. B. Shirley and Frank Rozelle, members of the nominating committee.

Plans were made for a joint dinner meeting with the Belle Glade Lions Club at the Pahokee school cafeteria on Wednesday evening, April 12, honoring members of the Pahokee Blue Devils and Belle Glade Golden Rams football squads. Joint Speaking Are Proposed For State Candidates

TALLAHASSEE, April 6. (Special.)—Representatives of all the candidates for governor who accepted the invitation of Milard Caldwell to make a joint appearance on the same platform at Orlando to decide upon the plan for joint appearances. The plan for joint appearances is based upon saving gasoline, tires and time for the people of each county and on any number of other opportunities of seeing and bearing all candidates at one time.

The telegram from Caldwell to the five other candidates read as follows:

For several worthwhile reasons set forth below I propose that we and the other candidates for governor of Florida meet at the same time and place on any number of occasions mutually agreeable, from a half dozen to once each night until the close of the first primary campaign.

"Such an arrangement would most importantly, enable the citizens to see and hear all candidates for governor by making one trip from their homes to the meeting place, thus saving them time, gas and money. It would also give them an opportunity of seeing and bearing all candidates at one time. It would enable the citizens to compare the personal and political records of the candidates by seeing and hearing them together. It would enable any one of us, against whom charges have been made or rumors spread, to face his accuser and make answer first hand.

Reports reaching me confirm, what is already apparent to those who have attended political speakings during this campaign, that a small percentage of the total number of voters has attended the public appearance of any primary candidate in Florida. It would permit a maximum number of voters to have personal and knowledge of the candidates in this race in order that they may more intelligently make a choice for their governor.

It is my sincere hope that all six candidates will agree to appear at the same time and place and speak from the same platform. It is my sincere hope that all six candidates will agree to appear at the same time and place and speak from the same platform.

EMPTY BOTTLES

One of the least onerous of civilian wartime duties is to return empty milk, soft drink and beer bottles to the retailer or distributor. It is necessary, too, if supplies of these three portables are to meet the demand at home and overseas. There is an estimated half billion empty bottles in American kitchens and basements that should be back in circulation. And more than 150,000,000 bottles of carbonated beverages will be shipped overseas to our fighting forces this year.

Soldiers and sailors can't bring those 150 million empties back and get their deposit. We can. It will help—and it isn't much of a job.—NEA Editorial.

He had choked her. She was dead; there was no doubt about it. He had listened to her dying gasp. Now she was cold—cold as the hand of death. Yet in his anger he was not convinced. Furiouly he kicked her. To his amazement she gasped, sputtered, and then began to hum softly.

"Just a little patience as it all takes, John," remarked his wife from the back seat.—Good Business.

A medical officer, transferring stretcher cases from ambulances to airplanes, noticed a negro soldier wrapped in a blanket, standing in an empty stretcher.

He ordered the man to lie down. When the soldier remonstrated he was told that he would be court martialed if he didn't lie down and shut up. So he obeyed and was flown 600 miles to a hospital.

When examining internes, puzzled, asked what was wrong with him, the soldier exclaimed:

"Tain't nothin' wrong with me. Our company was gettin' deloused. I jes walked out t' see what was goin'-on, while I waited fo' my clothes." Disabled Veterans' Magazine.

WOOL HOARDING

Weavers complain that the government hangs on to "wool-saving" style restrictions when warehouses are jammed with fleece.

U. S. stocks, not counting wool technically owned by the British, amount to more than a billion pounds, equivalent to a year's needs. The new domestic wool clip is just around the corner. Supplies continue to arrive from Australia and South America; the trade hears that South African fleece also is on order.

Millmen note with envy that Britain recently saw fit to ease its regulations on standardized ("utility") clothing for men.—Wall Street Journal.

EAREY TRAINING

A Delaware sergeant is given credit for bringing a battered Flying Fortress back from Germany by patching up the shattered rudder control cables with bits of cord from his flying suit.

We don't know the early history of this young man, but it's probably a safe bet that he was one of thousands of American youngsters who learned practical mechanics in his high school days by maintaining a jalopy on a shoestring budget, with the help of a few pieces of cord, some chewing gum, and the native ability that has made our air forces tops in world combat.—NEA Editorial.

HER SUPPORT

A feminine passenger had boarded the bus after the light had gone out. A tall man standing near her asked if he could help her find a strap.

"Thank you," she replied, "but I have already found one."

"Then I wonder if you would mind letting go of my necktie."—Our Dumb Animals.

Cinematic Chatter—

Those of you who remember the fine performance Pat O'Brien gave in "Katie's Rock" will be happy to learn this excellent actor is scheduled to screen another unforgettable picture at the Prince Theatre with the Owl Show, Saturday and the Sunday-Monday run. That picture is "The Iron Major."

In the cast with O'Brien are such well known artists as Ruth Warwick, Robert Ryan, Leon Ames, Russell Wade, Bruce Edwards and Richard Martin.

Story is the inside tale of Frank Cavanaugh's life—That life which was unknown to his thousands of admirers until after his death, when his wife, Florence, released it to screen writers who placed it in film form.

This is a must picture for you, even though you may not be a football fan—Because it is LIFE, pulsating invigorating life—The thing we all love.

The Tuesday-Wednesday offering brings "The Kansan", with Richard Dix, Jane Wyatt, Albert Dekker, Victor Jory, Eugene Peltie, Robert Armstrong, Francis McDonald and Clem Bevans cast in the roles that fit them like a tailored glove.

Of course Richard Dix is the central figure in this rollicking drama, with Albert Dekker and Victor Jory furnishing the "conflict", which is the very essence of any drama. Jane Wyatt contributes the romance, for it is because of a woman's love that men usually do battle.

Harold Perry, better known to his thousands of radio listeners as "Gildersleeve," comes back to our local screen this Thursday-Friday with an exceptional cast of ladies and gentlemen composed of Billie Burke, Claire Carleton, Richard LeGrand, Freddie Merzer, Hobart Cavanaugh, Margaret Landry, Leonid Kinskey, Ann Doran, Lillian Randolph and Michael Road. His offering is under the title "Gildersleeve on Broadway," and is said to be one of his best laugh hits he has yet brought to the screen.

For members of the Six Shooters Club and their regular Saturday offering comes Donald (Red) Barry with Lynn Merrick and the usual Western cast in another "how open" under the title "Valley Outlaws." See you at the movies—Mal.
